Project Name	Smart Fashion Recommender Application

A screenshot of a Windows PowerShell terminal window titled "Administrator: Windows PowerShell". The terminal has a dark blue background with white text. The user has entered the command "docker login". The terminal displays instructions to login with a Docker ID, followed by the username "balajiguru28" and a password prompt. After successful login, it shows a message about granting complete access and provides a link for better security. The prompt returns to "PS C:\Windows\system32>".

```
Administrator: Windows PowerShell
PS C:\Windows\system32> docker login
Login with your Docker ID to push and pull images from Docker Hub. If you don't have a Docker ID, head over to https://hub.docker.com to create one.
